

Commercial Floor Matting Company Launches Step into Spring Sale 2017 on All Facility Safety Products

EagleMat.com acknowledges slip-and-fall safety hazards during the spring due to weather-related issues and seasonal business liabilities

(PRWEB) April 24, 2017 -- Businesses who plan to revitalize spaces for superior safety protection and branding can save on top-rated commercial floor mats this spring. Eagle Mat and Floor Products, a flooring solutions and commercial building products company serving businesses nationwide and globally, is proud to announce its cyclical sale on the heels of Workers Memorial Day, a day to honor those who have died or been injured at work.

Friday, April 28 is a time for companies to recommit to safe and healthy workplaces. It also celebrates the introduction of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA), a subsidiary of the United States Department of Labor, introduced in 1970. According to OSHA, slips, trips and falls – often caused by lack of proper floor grip – account for most general industry accidents in the United States.

With warm summer weather looming, pool mats are popular selections for both commercial and residential properties this time of year. Given the environment, waterparks, marinas, and pools are obligated to create safer walking paths for customers and employees alike. Pool and Locker Room mats proactively manage inevitable water accumulation and release excess moisture away for substantial foot traction, particularly in spaces where shoes aren't required. Pliable surfaces allow for comfort and walking stability, concurrently.

Garage flooring is another springtime favorite for protection against automobile oil, antifreeze and battery acid. Auto service providers can choose from peel-and-stick garage tiles, guaranteed against cracking and curling, or roll-out mats for stress-free installation. Routine maintenance of commercial garage flooring is simple with hassle-free sweeping or rinsing, depending on the spill or mess nature.

“Keeping floors safe isn't just accomplished with the use of mats, but our Automatic Wet Umbrella Wrappers are a big help as well” says Eagle Mat's President Steven Blumberg. “Catching rain water off of umbrellas before they hit the floor with the use of these simple devices is an easy and reliable preventative measure to making sure your floors stay dry”.

As an entryway solution, rubber drainage mats assist with shoe scraping and adhesion in slippery spots. Many drainage mats are manufactured with durable Nitrile rubber for long-lasting support and skid resistance.

Regardless of industry, placing and/or replacing floor mats is a customary general business practice for spring. According to Eagle Mat, winter weather takes a toll on existing floor matting, particularly those which endure heavy foot traffic and months of defending against the outdoor elements.

Businesses who lack safety enhanced floor mats altogether frequently face new slipping hazards due to spring-induced moisture, outdoor debris and tracked mud. Commercial floor mats help eliminate falling liabilities for cognizant businesses who share concerns about inclement weather and facility safety. Should an accident occur, failure to curb potential threats in precarious zones with preventative resources like floor mats could leave businesses liable by negligence.

Aside from preserving a clean and friendly public appearance, commercial mats trap more bacteria and provide a better gripping surface compared to bare wood, marble, or tiles. Dirt holds pesticides, allergens and other pollutants that impact the indoor air quality (IAQ). Matting minimizes related airborne illnesses and promotes healthful interiors.
